Burch in 1959. The 3Rs are:

Replacement: methods which avoid or replace the use of animals in research

Reduction: use of methods that enable researchers to obtain comparable levels of information from fewer animals, or to obtain more information from the same number of animals. Refinement: use of methods that alleviate or minimize

The Three Rs (animals) - Wikipedia

The animals issue provides an admirably clear discussion of the role theoretical considerations have to play in determining our moral judgement.

Carruthers explores a variety of moral theories, exposing the weaknesses of philosophical basis for extending legal protections to animals. Another, competing, basis is based on the theory of utilitarianism – the outright rejection of rights for all species and instead advocacy for equal consideration. This is the view espoused by Peter Singer, author of Animal Liberation.
